

TREATY OF MUTUAL RECOGNITION BETWEEN THE KINGDOM OF ZETELAND AND THE CONSTITUTIONAL REPUBLIC OF UNITED LAND

The Kingdom of Zeteland and the Constitutional Republic of United Land, hereinafter referred to as “each Party”;

Desiring to recognize each nation’s independence, and to establish friendly relations;

Have agreed to the following:

Article I — Mutual Recognition

1. Each Party recognizes the other as a sovereign and independent nation.
2. Each Party recognizes the right of the other to determine its own government, laws, institutions, and foreign affairs.
3. Each Party accepts the territorial claims of the other, such as the territorial claims do not interfere with existing claims of themselves respectively.

Article II — Peaceful Relations

1. Each Party shall conduct their relations in a spirit of peace, friendship, and mutual respect.
2. Any dispute regarding this treaty shall be held through consultation and peaceful negotiation.

Article III — Cooperation

1. Each Party may pursue cooperation in areas of shared interests, including culture, education, trade, and public events.
2. Specific projects and obligations shall be established through a mutual agreement.
3. This Treaty creates no obligation to provide support to the other Party such as, military, financial, or preferential trade.

REPUBLIC OF UNITED LAND

Article IV — Entry into Force and Duration

1. This Treaty shall enter into force on the date each Party exchanges notifications confirming completion of their respective internal approval procedures.
2. This Treaty shall remain in force indefinitely unless terminated in accordance with Article VI

Article V — Amendments

1. This Treaty may be amended by written agreement from both Parties. Amendments shall enter into force upon completion of the approval procedure as specified in Article IV.

Article VI — Termination

1. Either Party may terminate this Treaty by providing thirty days' written notice to the other Party.
2. Termination shall not , by itself, constitute withdrawal of recognition. Any withdrawal of recognition must be communicated expressly and separately.
3. Termination shall not automatically terminate separate agreements concluded between each Party.
